COMPANY CULTURE: The culture at MSM is one of collaboration, creativity, and passion. We celebrate our successes and our most precious assets – our people. Our employees are competitively compensated, have access to generous benefits and receive a wealth of career advancement and growth opportunities through cross-training and leadership programs. At our core we are a family and are grateful for each other, our clients, and the work that we do.

Our core values are at the heart of our business and each of our employees embody these values. We search for individuals who:

- Express gratitude for others and our coworkers
- Will do anything for our customers
- Are positive and always finds a way
- Thrive in a demanding environment
- Always does the right thing, even when no one is looking

GREAT WORK: Since 1993, MSM has created custom experiences for trade show exhibits, customer events and corporate & retail installations. We solve brand's face-to-face marketing challenges through innovative design and interactive engagement, while delivering an extraordinary level of service, quality and value.

As a full-service experiential partner, we empower brands to better connect with their audiences through one-of-a-kind activations and transform their event marketing initiatives into flawlessly run programs. Our approach has resulted in accolades from all major industry experts, and long-term partnerships with leading brands, such as PepsiCo, Johnson & Johnson and ExxonMobil.

By hiring the absolute best people, MSM has become a leader in the event marketing industry, winning top honors from design awards to topping annual lists of the elite trade show exhibit fabricators.

TESTIMONIALS: Curious about what our employees have to say about working at MSM? Check out some of our employee testimonials below:

"My favorite thing about working at MSM is the 'all hands-on deck' attitude that everyone seems to have. If a challenge arises or a task needs to get done, individuals from any department collaborate to make miracles happen for our customers." - Hannah, Account Executive

"Every day is something different and it's GREAT! New clients, new projects, and new designs makes for exciting work!" - Bill, Senior Account Executive

"I like the challenges. There is lots to do and every day is different with new challenges to solve. It's an exciting place to work and the team comes together well to get things done!" - Joe, Chief Enterprise Architect

"I like the adventure of my role! Every day is different and even when it's similar, there's often a new path to be taken and explored." - Mike, Graphic Design Manager

COOL BENNIES: At MSM we provide our employees with an exceptional work environment complete with opportunities for growth, mentoring and training. In addition to a great workplace culture, employees also get the opportunity to work with major consumer and B2B brands. Our employees enjoy competitive compensation, a hybrid work environment, generous paid time off/sick time, a well-equipped on-premise gym for our on-site employees, and so much more!
