THE FUTURE OF IMMERSIVE EXPERIENCES IS HERE.

At Bridgewater Studio, we've been building the experiences of tomorrow since day one, because we believe the next great experience is about more than just the final result.

It's about creative problem solving and technical mastery. It's about efficiency as a competitive advantage. It's about building a rewarding company culture, and bringing joy to clients across the entire project life cycle.

Above all, we believe creating the next great experience begins with choosing the right partner to lead the way.

We're a fully-integrated experience design, production and strategy company, partnering with brands, corporate clients, and cultural institutions around the world to deliver memorable moments with purpose. Join us on our mission to create the impossible—and make it fun.

EXPERIENTIAL DESIGN.

Forward-thinking design anticipates logistical, technical, and material challenges to ensure every concept is viable.

Technology and increased audience expectations have transformed the experiential landscape. Never-been-done-before is the new normal.

INTEGRATED TECHNOLOGY.

CUSTOM FABRICATION.

There's more to it than just building cool things. Success is defined by attention to detail and execution at the highest level.
